It’s MY Choice!

Information about support for young people leaving secondary school

Please feel free to photocopy this directory as a whole or in part.
2007
This Directory acknowledges ‘It’s MY Journey’, the consultation with young people undertaken by Highland Children’s Forum in partnership with the Highland Council and in collaboration with Barnardo’s Springboard. The quotations from young people are taken directly from ‘It’s MY Journey’, and are used throughout this Directory to demonstrate the challenges and needs facing young people during and after transition from secondary education to adulthood.

“A checklist would give a detailed sketch of what to do and could be quite useful”

“Some people on the autistic spectrum need extra help with decision making. Just going to meetings may not help the person with decision making.”

“My preparation for adulthood was a very, very hard road. I was lucky because although I am a non-speaker I have a brain that works and I wrote letters on my computer of how I felt and this explained to everyone what I was feeling and what my dreams were.”

“Someone came to my house, my mum was there. They talked about college. A log was taken of the meeting.”

“I need help with finance, support and information [to complete my moving on plan]. It would have helped” [if these needs had been identified while still at school].

“Some people on the autistic spectrum need extra help with decision making. Just going to meetings may not help the person with decision making.”

Introduction

Dear Reader,

The “It’s MY Choice!” directory is an information guide for young people and their supporters. This directory aims to provide information on Services and Opportunities within Highland for children and young people with additional support needs in transition from secondary education to adulthood.

The document has been updated and expanded by CHIP+ with funding from Determined to Succeed, The Highland Council Education Department, The Change Fund Learning Disability, Equal in Scotland, Europe and Scotland Working Together, Integrated Children’s Services and Hi Hopes Equal Monies. CHIP+ has other resources including library books on a range of topics that you may find helpful.

The directory is in two parts – an Easy Read Section and a Main Directory.

- The Easy Read section uses pictures and text and is designed to be used in conjunction with the other sections in the main Directory, which are:
  - Introduction and Useful Information
  - Education, Training and Jobs
  - Relationships
  - It’s MY Life
  - Health and Support
  - MY Rights
  - A Home of MY Own
  - Evaluation Form and Index

The Directory in its most up-to-date format can be printed or downloaded from the following websites:

- www.childreninthehighlands.com
- www.highland.gov.uk/socialwork/learningdisabilityservices
- www.nhshighland.scot.nhs.uk/Publications/Pages/It'sMyChoice!.aspx

If you have difficulty accessing the information in the Directory please contact CHIP+ on the contact email address or telephone number below to discuss your needs.

The information contained in the document is correct at the time of printing, if however you find any of the information misleading or inaccurate please inform us. Additionally, we would be happy to have information on any organisation, opportunity or service which is not currently included, or be made aware of any changes to existing entries within the Directory.

Acknowledgements

We would like to express our appreciation to the following organisations who helped to produce the updated version of It’s MY Choice: The Corbett Centre Focus Group; Integrated Children’s Services; Lead Professionals from Deaf Services, Vision Services, Autism Outreach Services and many others; and Highland Learning Disability and Relationships Group.

Yours sincerely,

Francesca Stubbs - Information and Support Officer.

Useful Information

When you leave school you may find that some of the services you are receiving at the moment will change. To prepare for this, you may want to talk to the people who provide these services and ask about the changes that will occur. It is a good idea to draw up a list of the professionals that you see. The list might include: Community Paediatrician, Social Worker, Physiotherapist, Occupational Therapist or Speech and Language Therapist for example. Not everyone will have the same list and these are just examples.

It might also be useful to think about money and benefits. You might find the following information useful.

Direct Payments

- What is a Direct Payment?
  A Direct Payment is a cash payment made by Social Work Services as an alternative to receiving services from the council. They are a way of increasing your freedom and choice of how your needs are to be met. They do not affect any benefits that you may receive.

- Who can get a Direct Payment?
  They are available for adults and children with a disability (including mental health problems, learning difficulties, physical disabilities, and sensory impairment).

Direct Payments Check List

To receive a Direct Payment, you must be:

- Either aged 16 years or older with additional needs, or a parent/guardian for an additional needs child
- Able to agree to have a Direct Payment
- Able to manage a Direct Payment, with support if necessary
- Have a social work assessment that says you, or your child needs support

- Do I have to take a Direct Payment?
  No. If you do not want to accept a direct payment, you can receive the local authority provided services instead.

- Who do I speak to about getting Direct Payments?
  If you would like to know more about the Highland Direct Payments Scheme or have any questions about the service, contact: Claire Sutherland (Direct Payments Support Officer)
  Tel: 01463 703 425/536
  Email: claire.sutherland@highland.gov.uk
  Address: Kinmylies Social Work Building, Leachkin Road, Inverness, IV3 8NN.

  For general enquiries, contact: Gail MacMillan
  Tel: 01463 703 536

If you are already receiving a Social Work Service, contact them to see if you are eligible. Otherwise, contact your local Social Work office to obtain an assessment (see below).

Inverness - 01463 724 220

Ross, Cromarty, Skye & Lochalsh - 01349 868 567

Nairn, Badenoch, Strathspey - 01667 453 746

Benefits for Young People with Disabilities or Long Term Health Problems

Incapacity Benefit (IB)

If you are unable to work because of illness or disability it may be possible to get Incapacity Benefit. This is a weekly payment for people who are, or become incapable of work while under State Pension age. It is important to apply in time because to qualify for Incapacity Benefit you need to have made National Insurance contributions (which come from your wages). However if you are not able to work before the age of 20 you may also qualify for this benefit.

- Incapacity Benefit is available to young people who have been incapacitated early in life, and are unable to work because of illness or disability
- You may be able to claim Incapacity Benefit under the Incapacity in Youth rules if:
  - you are over 16, but under 20 and
  - you are not in full-time education (full-time is 21 hours or more per week) and
  - you have a medical certificate for the whole period of incapacity
- In some cases, you may apply when you are under the age of 25.

To claim Incapacity Benefit you should call the contact centre - Tel: 0800 0 556688.
If you have speech or hearing problems you can contact the centre by textphone:
Tel: 0800 0 234888.

For enquiries on existing claims for Incapacity Benefit, contact: 0845 600 1506

16-17 year olds should contact Careers Scotland:
Invergordon - 01349 853666  Portree - 01478 612328  Inverness - 01463 252100
Fort William - 01397 874550  Thurso - 01847 895310

Disability Living Allowance (DLA)

This is the most important benefit for people with disabilities whether employed or unemployed. If you receive any other benefits or wages you can claim Disability Living Allowance as well, and it will not reduce the amount of money you get from these other benefits or wages. Having Disability Living Allowance also entitles you to a number of other potential benefits. Disability Living Allowance is paid at different rates depending on how your disability affects you and it is not means tested. Disability Living Allowance is in two parts - the care component and the mobility component. You may be able to get just one component - or both.

- How can I claim Disability Living Allowance?

You can claim online or get a claim pack by:

- phoning the contact centre: 0845 712 3456
- people with speech/hearing problems can phone using a textphone: 0845 722 4433
- contacting your local Jobcentre Plus office or local social security office
- downloading the claim form from: www.dwp.gov.uk/eservice
Jobseekers Allowance

If you are under 18 you can only claim Jobseekers Allowance if you are under exceptional hardship. You should register with the careers office and take advice on whether you might be able to make a claim. For full details of relevant benefits or to answer any individual questions, contact the Benefit Enquiry Line for People with Disabilities: 0800 88 22 00.

People with speech or hearing problems can contact the Benefit Enquiry Line using a textphone: 0800 24 33 55.

For enquiries on existing claims for Jobseekers Allowance, contact: 0845 600 1506

Benefit Enquiry Line for People with Disabilities

The Benefit Enquiry Line is a benefits help line for people with disabilities, carers and representatives. They offer advice and information on benefits and how to claim them. In addition to giving advice they also send out an extensive range of leaflets and claim packs to customers.

Their advisers have no access to customer's personal records and so are able to provide general advice only. The most common benefits that they provide advice on are those relating to sickness and disability i.e. Disability Living Allowance, Incapacity Benefit and Income Support. There is no charge for the using service; however, some mobile phone users may incur a cost by their operator. The Benefit Enquiry Line also provides help to complete certain disability-related claim packs over the telephone. Alternative formats are available e.g. Large Print, Braille.

<tr>
<td>Careers Scotland</td>
<td>Careers Scotland, Highlands and Islands Enterprise staff help young people who may have difficulty in making the move into further education, training or employment. Leaving school and starting work, training, or going to college is a big step. Some young people can find it hard for a variety of reasons: they may have a physical or learning disability, or simply lack confidence at a time when it is most needed. Through its Keyworker Services they provide additional support by meeting the young person at times and places suitable to them; getting to know them as an individual and helping them to know more about themselves – their strengths and weaknesses, hopes and fears. Keyworkers work out of the Careers Scotland Centres. With the young person’s permission they will meet with other people who can help, including family and friends – often an important influence on how decisions are made. They will work closely with other agencies on the young person’s behalf, helping over a longer period of time to make sure they move on successfully from school.</td>

Email: petehiggins1@btconnect.com

GREAN's main activity is running a kerbside collection service of dry recyclates in central and eastern Sutherland under a Service Level Agreement for Highland Council. However, they also run a number of other projects, including a Training Project aimed principally, but not exclusively, at non-academically inclined school leavers; they take them on supported employment schemes and aim to instil basic job skills. These include how to behave in the workplace, punctuality, appearance, interacting with fellow workers and the public, etc. Training takes place in the workplace, either in the main project or in one of the other projects e.g. the Community Garden.

They have a well-integrated workforce who is accustomed to working with vulnerable young adults, and although they do not provide one-to-one interaction the work environment is friendly and well structured.

New Deal is a Government programme that aims to give unemployed people the help and support they need to get into work. Everyone on New Deal gets a personal advisor who is their point of contact throughout the programme. The personal advisor takes the time to understand you – your experiences, interests and goals – so a plan can be prepared to get you into a suitable job.

If you get disability or health related benefits and want to work, but need some help and support along the way, then the voluntary New Deal for Disabled People could help you.

New Deal for disabled people is a voluntary programme delivered through a network of Job Brokers who have been chosen by Jobcentre Plus because of their experience with health conditions or disabilities. Taking part in New Deal for disabled people will have no affect on your benefits.

At New Start there are many volunteering opportunities. Whether you are able to come along for a couple of hours or for the day you will be most welcome and we will be really grateful for your help. Some of the opportunities available include –

- Store Person – loading and unloading vehicles; cleaning the donations brought into the building so that they are ready to go out as a delivery.

- Furniture Restoration – helping restore and repair some of the donated items to their original beauty.

- Sorting Donations – This involves sorting all the smaller items that are donated, putting them into the most suitable destination.

- Shop – The shop is open 2 full days a week and a Thursday morning, but need more people to help out. The shop is a friendly, busy, fun place to be.

- Electrical Testing – all the electrical items that are donated have to be tested. They need people who have the Portable Appliance Test certificate or those that have an interest in it and would be willing to train.

... and many more!

Once you have chosen what you want to do, we will enable you to get started and continue to provide ongoing support as you commence |
Lead Scotland (Contd)

Your local Lead Organisers are Teresa Johnson & Jan Stephen

Lead Scotland can support you in taking a course using a college or local learning centre that could lead to an SQA qualification in your chosen subject. You could learn how to use a computer, or use the computer as a tool to learn another subject. They can lend you a computer and printer for up to six months through our free computer loan scheme.

Learners receiving benefits are entitled to ‘fee waiver’ on tuition fees for many courses. Experienced Lead staff will arrange ‘fee waiver’ where possible with colleges and other learning providers, so that you can enrol on a course free of charge.

A Lead volunteer can be made available to support your learning. Volunteers provide practical learning support, for example, scribing, talking through coursework, looking at study skills, providing encouragement etc.

One of our Lead Organisers can arrange to visit you at home, or somewhere that suits you best, to talk about what you want to learn. We can give you the information you need to get started and ongoing support for you to continue your studies.

At present, staff support adults with learning disabilities, ASD, sensory impairments including hearing and sight impairments, physical disabilities, and multiple disabilities. All support is based on client led programmes, and more than 70% of all activities and support takes place in the community. A transition worker based at the Social Work Department’s Tweeddale office is the main link between the centre and Lochaber High School, and they work with young people who may wish to receive services before they leave school. The centre operates between Monday and Friday from 9 am to 4.30 p.m.

Caberfeidh House is a small day centre for adults 16 to 65 who have learning disabilities. They are open on weekdays from 8.30am to 4pm.
They support people to develop and maintain skills and interests, including personal care, personal budgeting, cooking, gardening and cycling on the cycle track nearby. Services are designed around service user’s interests and needs, and tend to focus on the individual rather than the group.
They have support workers who enable people to access local services, activities, and organisations. This might be shopping, swimming, walking or the use of the local leisure complex or cafes. They also support individuals to access employment and training. If service users have an appointment whilst at the day centre they can be supported to visit the hairdresser, dentist or doctor.
Their service users primarily have learning disabilities, but also work with other professionals to ensure that the complex needs of their service users are met. There is regular input and visits from a Learning Disabilities Nurse, a Psychologist, a Speech and Language Therapist and an Occupational Therapist.

Tigh Na Drochaid is a Highland Council Social Work Services Resource Centre. It only provides adult services and usually become involved in the transition period, a year or so before the 19th birthday.

They have a range of typical Day Services provision, such as art, crafts, drama, keep-fit, cooking, swimming, horse-riding, etc. However, due to the requirements of ‘The Same As You?’ and other policies and guidelines, they are looking to move away from such traditional work, and be more involved in skills training, such as I.T., Adult Literacy, and support for employment. They also have a supported tenancies project in Portree, with the majority of people moving into their own flat from either long-stay hospitals, or home. A team of support workers are attached to this project, and they work closely with the Day Services provision in order to increase independent living skills.

NAS Scotland Student Support Service
For students at both Further and Higher education establishments who have Asperger syndrome or High Functioning autism. The aim is to ensure that transition onto courses is smooth and that the necessary support is in place. The service then works with the student to ensure that they sustain their course choice. This involves working both with the student - providing sessions which are tailored to the needs of the individual, and with staff in the chosen place of study. Furthermore, raising awareness on autism spectrum disorders is available for learning support staff, mentors, and curriculum staff as required. There are plans to provide the service Scotland-wide, and training is currently available for staff throughout Scotland. Please contact the Project Manager for more details.

EQUAL Project

EQUAL is a two year European funded project within the Glasgow and Greater Glasgow area as well as some employment work in Inverness in the latter stages of the Project. The Project is for individuals who have an autism spectrum disorder (ASD), focusing on those with a diagnosis of Asperger syndrome or high-functioning autism. There are two strands to the project. One focuses on ensuring that individuals are able to access college and university and are supported to make the transition be that from college into university or employment, or from university into employment. The other strand of the project focuses on working with employers in order that placement and job opportunities are improved for individuals with Asperger syndrome who are referred to our employment service.

Samaritans volunteers provide an emotional support service to people of all ages who are feeling down, who are finding it difficult to cope and who need someone to talk to. They also want to help those who are feeling so bad that they have suicidal thoughts or feelings. This is a confidential service.

Their volunteers won’t judge or criticise but will listen and help the person to think how they can deal with the feelings that they have. Whatever situation someone is dealing with, they want to help – family problems, relationship break-ups, bereavement, bullying, and work. They are available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week by phone, e-mail, letter, and even face to face if your local branch is open.

The Drop-in is a warm and friendly place to come and socialise. It's somewhere to meet up with your mates and have a laugh, to play games on the PS2, enter regular competitions, listen to music or use the computer. You can get a bite to eat, get involved with arts & crafts, play the guitar or piano (for which we hold weekly lessons for anyone interested), or just chat and chill out...

They also have lots of games and activities to entertain you, such as: pool, table football, table tennis, darts and air hockey, as well as all of the friendly volunteers who help to make sure things run smoothly and everyone feels cared about, happy and safe.

Duke of Edinburgh Awards
The Duke of Edinburgh Award is on offer through some schools, youth clubs, and voluntary organisations. They are aimed at young people aged 14-25 and there are three levels – Bronze, Silver and Gold. At each level you complete 4 sections, involving voluntary activity, physical recreation, skill development and an expedition. You can gain certificates for each section you complete.

Young Quality Scot Awards

Are you involved in work within your community and want to get it recognised? The Young Quality Scot Award scheme recognises and rewards the efforts of young people to improve the quality of life in their communities and is operated as a partnership between Quality Scotland and Quality Scotland organisations, local authorities, YouthLink and voluntary youth organisations.

You must be aged between 16 and 19 years of age, and personally actively involved in trying to make a difference in their community - on your own initiative, with friends or through a club or other organisation.

Young Scot Awards

The Young Scot Awards recognise and celebrate the amazing contribution that ordinary young people aged 12-22 make each day to their communities and country. Nominations of individuals and groups take place through the Sunday Mail and Young Scot website, with a closing date usually around February.
Duke of Edinburgh’s Award (Contd)

These awards have 12 categories – volunteering, arts, heritage, democracy, enterprise, sport, cultural diversity, unsung, environment, health, entertainment, and community. From winners in each of these sections one Young Scot is named. Please contact Rebecca Raynes for more information.

| Health and Happiness is the dream of adults with learning disabilities living in the Highlands. It is about making life better and fairer. It is about having the right to speak up for how they would like to live their lives and the choices they want to be able to make - just like anybody else. They want a safe place to live; to be able to go out and work; to meet their friends and have relationships; to enjoy good health.
Health and Happiness runs a variety of projects across Highland, including gardening schemes, Youthbanks, leisure link, citizen advocacy, adapted bicycle initiatives, theatre/drama, as well as work raising awareness on health issues and learning disability. Health and Happiness is also looking to train adults with a learning disability in how to become trainers on health awareness and to start a women's group and a men's group. As different projects operate in different areas, if you need any further information, please contact the number detailed opposite. |

Most of us need information, advice, or support at some times in our lives which cannot be provided by family or friends. Social Work Services may be able to help. They can: provide information; assess your needs and your carer’s needs; discuss what help is available locally; provide links to Health, Housing and Education; support and arrange access to other help e.g. support workers; respond to a crisis; and take effective steps to keep people safe. They aim to act promptly to requests for information and help, and to be as flexible as possible in their response.

Social Work Teams for children and families are arranged in around secondary schools and the associated primary schools. There is an additional Child Health Team based at Raigmore Hospital and a Team for children with complex needs as a result of their disabilities. Access to this Team is usually through multi-agency liaison arrangements.

The Team for children with disabilities assists young people with complex needs and their families to prepare and plan for the transition to the adult world. There are key differences which need to be taken into account. If a young person will require support in the adult world the assessment of needs to be undertaken early and in partnership with social work services for adults.

Services for adults are organised into Older and Younger Adult Teams (under 65). Some Areas have a Transitions Worker who focus on supporting people in the 18 - 25 age-group or younger when child services are already involved. Assessments of young adults are guided by the Fair Access to Community Care Services Document (FACCS) which can be provided by any Highland Council Service Point.

To find your local Café, please contact:
The Prince’s Trust, 81A Castle Street, Inverness
Tel: 01463 729364

Please ring the above number to contact the following people for more information:

Paula Molyneux – ‘xlerate with xl’ and ‘First Steps/Highland Recharge’
Bridget Trussell – Youth Cafes
Bill Anderson – Manager

They provide proven, high quality, personal development and training opportunities that help change young lives across the UK. Their clients are young people who are unemployed, in or leaving care, underachieving at school or (ex) offenders. The Prince’s Trust has national reach, delivering practical solutions at a local level. They enable young people to overcome barriers and are enterprising in their approach.

The Prince’s Trust in Highlands and Islands support young people via the following:

Xlerate with xl - is a preventative, personal development programme run in schools to support young people at risk of exclusion, disaffection and underachievement

Development Awards - offer small grants of up to £500 and one-to-one support for young people facing barriers in life to give them a kick-start into education, training or work.

First Steps/Highland Recharge - offers young people an initial platform for moving on to opportunities available through The Trust and other support agencies. First Steps in the Highlands and Islands, more commonly called Highland Recharge, takes place on Fingal of Caledonia and sails on the Caledonian canal from Inverness to Fort William

Youth Cafes - The trust is engaging with groups of young people in Highlands & Islands to deliver a package of funding, training and guidance in sustaining youth cafe activity.

They help clients gain the skills, qualifications or finance they need to find work or start-up in business. They help them to develop self-confidence and motivation so they can improve their quality of life. They bring young people together from different backgrounds, cultures and faiths, so that they can make a positive difference to their communities. They help offenders break the cycle of crime by offering them the training and support they need to turn their lives around.
Health and Support

“... looks after her health by eating a healthy diet and taking exercise – she walks a lot. If she needs advice on health matters she would arrange to see the local nurse.”

<td>They are a voluntary organization who works with clients and counsellors on a one to one basis, which allows them to explore more sensitive issues surrounding substance misuse. They encourage their participation in other groups in the area so that the clients gain as much support as possible from various viewpoints. This is not confusing but allows clients freedom of choice. They deal not only with substance misuse but addictions in general, for example self harm, gambling etc. Most of these issues will tend to have an element of substance misuse running through as a current theme. Confidentiality is an important factor in their service and work with an agency confidentially policy which embraces the right to safe practice and child protection issues which take precedence. They offer an open door policy and have no strict referral process; they do take referrals but also welcome self-referrals. They have a policy of being supportive and non-judgmental whilst encouraging clients to take charge of their own life and value their views and their own self image.</td>

NAS Scotland Outreach Service

By providing Outreach support for individuals with autism spectrum disorders (ASDs), their aim is to ensure that the individual is supported to access the wider community and participate in everyday life. The overall aim is to empower the individual and increase their life-skills and confidence. This involves working closely with the individual and their family as well as other agencies who might be involved in their support.

The Outreach service delivers direct support to individuals with an ASD. The team also provide training and consultancy, as well as in-depth assessments of need. All Outreach team members are appropriately trained and have experience of working with individuals with complex needs. People’s needs change across their lifespan. In addition to this, people with ASDs have recognised specific needs that will vary from person to person. In meeting those needs, the Outreach services provide a personal service, and takes account of every person’s unique circumstances. Through ongoing review, they are able to adapt this service to meet the changing needs of the person. They can provide this service 52 weeks a year, 24 hours a day.

Autism Services Directory

The Autism Services Directory (formerly known as PARIS) is an online UK-wide database of diagnostic services, schools, support groups, training courses, residential and day services and much more. The Directory is designed to help people with autism (including those with Asperger syndrome), their families and the people who work with them professionally to find out more about the services available to them. Through simple searches and browsing, users can find their nearest school, adult service, respite service, play scheme or other type of local or national service.

The Directory provides valuable information to professionals working with people who have an autism spectrum disorder (ASD) by including details about training courses, events, professional partnerships and statutory organisations.

NAS Signpost
Signpost is a web resource that has been designed to give parents and carers and people with autism spectrum disorders (ASD) personalized information relevant to their situation. It could also be used by professionals seeking information to give to a specific client or patient. It asks the user to complete a brief profile on the screen by answering no more than six short questions. When the profile is complete Signpost presents information relevant to the person’s age, diagnosis and locality. The user will see an introduction to autism or Asperger syndrome for the appropriate age band; overviews of the condition if the person has recently received a diagnosis; information on transition, to help prepare for major changes in life; outlines of different benefits and entitlements; results of searches in the Autism Services Directory for key services: support groups, schools, day services, residential services etc; results of searches in the Directory for training events; links to relevant further information on the NAS website.

They produce publications with regard to reducing stigma associated with mental health.
Sense Scotland works with children and adults who have communication support needs because of deafblindness, sensory impairment, learning or physical disability. They lead the field in communication and innovative support services for people who are marginalised because of challenging behaviour, health care requirements and the complexity of their support needs. Their services are designed to provide choice and continuity across age groups and we work closely with families and colleagues from health, education and social work.

Services include:
- family advisory services
- community living with support for adults
- support services for adults
- support services for children
- residential short breaks for adults (Dundee and South Lanarkshire) and for children in Greater Glasgow
- art development work for children and adults
- outdoor education for children and adults
- practice skills training for professionals
- assessments
- representation, consultation and policy development
- general information enquiry service
- health information enquiry service

The Glengarry Centre is a drop-in centre for people living in the community who are experiencing mental health problems. The centre provides a friendly setting for social contact and support. Staff are available to offer individual support in a practical and confidential way. People use the centre as and when they wish and no formal referral is necessary. As a user led organisation which, where possible, tries to organise the activities which people using the centre request. The centre is not wheelchair accessible.

The Gatehouse is a facility for people in Sutherland who are recovering from mental illness. On introduction to the Gatehouse, members may be accompanied by a friend, relative or professional mental health worker. The Gatehouse operates a self-referral system, whereby anyone who feels they would benefit or improve their lives by using the facility is welcome to come along. The Gatehouse provides social support to those living in the community along with opportunities to become involved in a range
The Gatehouse (Contd) of activities, supported employment and voluntary work. Members may use the facility as little or as often as they wish.

Tel: 01708 456832  Fax: 01708 446310
Email: m.brace@vision2020uk.org.uk

VISION 2020 UK is an umbrella organisation which facilitates greater collaboration and cooperation between organisations within the UK which focus on visual impairment and operate on a national, regional or international basis - VISION 2020 UK is a supporting member of the VISION 2020 Global Initiative.

VISION 2020 UKs objectives are:
- To prevent avoidable blindness
- To improve the quality of services to visually impaired people
- To improve the training available to professionals providing advice and services
- To improve communication between organisations within the VI Sector
- To improve the availability of information to visually impaired people
- To ensure that the voices of the visually impaired are heard when planning services and their opinions sought on key issues affecting their lives
- To raise public awareness of the issues and problems relating to sight loss

In addition to the above, VISION 2020 UK will seek to provide a unified response on key issues affecting visually impaired people and to provide visual impairment sector representatives for consultation groups, working parties and project groups.

We provide a range of services to help visually impaired people to become independent and safe as they wish to be, through a variety of training schemes. This includes adults whose independence and quality of life is impaired due to poor vision and would benefit from social care or rehabilitation services.

These will include:
- Blind and partially sighted people who meet the criteria for registration
- People who have sight problems and are outside the criteria for formal registration but which nonetheless cause them difficulties
- People whose eye condition is not permanent e.g. people awaiting cataract surgery that may need support in the future.
The Scottish Executive's National Programme for Improving Mental Health and Wellbeing is driving a change in knowledge, attitudes and behaviour towards mental health. Their vision is to improve the mental health and wellbeing of everyone living in Scotland and to improve the quality of life and social inclusion of people experiencing mental health problems. As part of the Scottish Executive's Health Department, they take the lead on positive mental health and wellbeing improvement. They help shape, fund and support a series of key initiatives and support partnerships that are focused on different aspects of improving Scotland's Mental Health. The National Programme also undertakes a range of supporting activities to help this work move forward.

The National Programme also produces Well? magazine. Well? is a free bi-annual magazine on improving mental health and wellbeing in Scotland.

Email: enable@enable.org.uk

Every one of ENABLE Scotland’s services ensure that every adult, young person or child has opportunities for:

- Personal Development – so that their personal growth is recognised and they are helped to learn from their life experiences
- Real Integration – so that they can use a full range of community facilities and are not limited to special activities
- Relationships – so that they can develop genuine relationships and friendships
- Real Choices – so that they can express their individuality and have meaningful control over their lives
- Participation – so that they can, along with others, influence the nature of services being provided.

They can also supply information on the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000. This Act allows other people to make decisions on behalf of adults who do not have the capacity to make decisions for themselves. This covers welfare, finances and property. They can also offer information on any other relevant guideline.

Birchwood House is a centre that focuses on recovery, accommodating up to 22 service users in single rooms, studio apartments and flats. The focus of life in Birchwood House is on recovery. Qualified and experienced staff provide the care and support required to assist each service user in building/rebuilding links with the community and working towards their recovery. The key tool used in Birchwood House is the person-centred plan – a plan developed with each service user, designed to identify their specific needs in the recovery process.

Birchwood House is for adults (over 18s) with diagnosed mental ill health who actively want to work with us towards their recovery. While there is no time limit placed on any individual’s length of stay at Birchwood House, the aim is for service users to return to the community as soon as they are able to do so. Birchwood House is a stage in a person’s recovery.

| Pentland Housing Association - Care and Repair
www.pentlandhousing.co.uk | If the young person is a homeowner or private tenant, whose home is in need of repair or adaptation, the Care and Repair service offers independent advice and assistance to help to organise the repair, improvement or adaptation of the home. This includes help in applying for grant funding from the Council and charitable trusts, if necessary. Please note that certain criteria need to be met and the work must benefit a member of the household who has disabilities and is in need of the adaptations.

| Richmond Fellowship
www.trfs.org.uk | They provide many kinds of services. Most of the people they support have their own tenancies. They design their support to meet the unique requirements of each individual. They help people manage practical tasks around the home. They also help people to get involved in the life of their community and in the activities of their choice. They also provide day services, counselling services and crisis services.

| Shelter (Contd) | Shelter will:
• tell you your rights
• explain your options
• help you take action.

Specialist Shelter projects and services around the country help people with particular housing needs. The help they provide could include:
• easing the move into a new home for households who have been homeless
• supporting households struggling to maintain a tenancy
• training people in DIY skills
• helping people manage household finances
• delivering housing services for young people
• giving information and advice to ex-offenders, to improve their housing prospects.

Specialist support services vary from area to area according to the needs of the local community.

| www.streetwise-highland.org | This is aimed primarily at people who are homeless or at risk of being homeless but is a very helpful directory of local services available in Highland, e.g. how to get good second hand furniture, where the nearest doctors surgery is etc.
